 HIGHBROOK CROSSING

 Goodman

Welcome, Haere mai

Discover A Better Highbrook Crossing.

More seating. More plants. More free parking. More variety.

Thank you for your feedback about how to improve Highbrook Crossing.

We've added a range of picnic tables and plants around the plaza area and under the canopy. On sunny days we'll bring out the umbrellas and the beanbags. Several of the restaurants and cafés are open after work, so you can relax or meet up and avoid the traffic before heading home.

Our retailers are working on their promotions and variety - we also have some community offers and events for you. We'll tell you about these on our Facebook and Instagram, so start following. We have food truck visits planned to give you fresh options, a change is as good as a holiday!

In October the large Wilson car parking area will be free for the first 90 minutes – time for you to sit down and enjoy lunch or dinner.

Longterm, we are looking at further improvements. But for now, come down and visit A Better Highbrook Crossing.

Businesses making a change

Waiouru Road development in construction

Fackelmann Housewares

Viscount FCC

Waiouru Road – new development.

You may have noticed two new facilities going up on Waiouru Road – next to the Highbrook Park walking track. Fackelmann, one of Highbrook’s long standing customers and a global supplier of kitchenware, bakeware, knives and glassware is moving from Highbrook Drive. The new site includes a large warehouse, office and commercial showroom. Viscount FCC, who provide NZ fresh produce growers with returnable packaging solutions, is moving into the second facility. Viscount was previously in another of Goodman’s business parks in Mt Wellington.

New Real Estate Agency

Harcourts Best in Real Estate, a new customer to Highbrook, are moving into the Ford Building on 86 Highbrook Drive. They’re on the ground floor – you’ll see their branding late September.

Setting the standard

Building NZ’s first, and second, 6 Green Star Design industrial developments is just the beginning.

Tāwharau Lane and NZ Blood developments at Highbrook have received the world leading 6 Green Star Design rating from the New Zealand Green Building Council.

“Goodman continues to lead the local market with innovative and sustainable property solutions. A 6 Green Star Design rating represents world leadership and we’re extremely proud that these new developments at Highbrook are the first New Zealand industrial properties to achieve the standard.”

James Spence, Goodman NZ CEO

Garmin, which is at Tāwharau Lane, along with pH7 and Chemist Warehouse.

Introducing Hivebrook

Highbrook's ecosystem just got a boost with the addition of honeybees, in an area now called Hivebrook.

By introducing hives, the bees are helping to pollinate plants and promote biodiversity. This, in addition to the new ngahere (native plants) in the parklands, is creating a habitat and foodsource for insects and birds. The ngahere has seating and a lovely rest area to take time out.

Hivebrook is located next to the storm-water pond on the corner of Highbrook Drive and Business Parade North.

The ngahere is across the road down Tāwharau Lane.

Landscape for wellness

Meet Shane
Landscape and Compliance Manager

One of the great attractions at Highbrook are the beautiful landscapes.

They are no accident - they have all been meticulously planned since the early days of the development.

Meet the man who ensures they always look fantastic - Shane Everett, who manages all the landscaping at Highbrook Business Park. And has been doing it since 2005!

With the support of Mace Landscape Group, Shane ensures all plans, planting and maintenance are of the highest quality.

In fact Mace won Gold for Highbrook at the 2021 Landscapes of Distinction Awards.

Shane's all about sustainable maintenance practices, like composting garden waste, conserving water, and using battery-powered equipment. He managed the planting of the new ngahere area and installation of Hivebrook.

But what really puts a smile on Shane's face? Being part of a team that 100% gets and supports the importance of landscaping, biodiversity, and preserving the natural beauty of the parkland.

A full map of Highbrook Park showing the locations of the tracks, ngahere, rest area and Hivebrook is on the next page

Explore your local Highbrook Park

Get fit and healthy this spring and head out on the 8km of tracks. Discover the new ngahere and rest area, as well as the honey bees at Hivebrook.

See you out there!

In spring the birds are taking care of their chicks, please help them by keeping your dogs on-leash.
